

Germplasm and Genetics Stocks Workgroup Co-Chair Candidate

Prof. Zhang Xianlong

Vice-president of Huazhong Agricultural University

National Key Laboratory of Crop Genetic Improvement
Huazhong Agricultural University
Wuhan, Hubei
430070, PR China

Professor Xianlong Zhang is a professor of Huazhong Agricultural University, Wuhan, China. He worked in cotton research for almost 30 years, focusing on the areas that novel germplasm development by molecular marker-assisted selection, genetic transformation, genes isolation and functional analysis, and cotton breeding. He wrote 8 books in cotton breeding, biotechnology, and plant tissue culture. Dr. Zhang published more than 60 papers in the international journals, including Plant Physiology, Plant Biotechnology Journal, Journal of Experimental Botany, etc. He promised to work for ICGI if he is elected.